- The contributed surplus of the Group represents the difference between the nominal amount of the shares issued by the Company and the aggregate amount of the share capital and share premium of the subsidiary acquired pursuant to a group reorganisation in March 2004.
- The special reserve of the Group represents the shares, as opposed to share options or warrants of the Company which have been granted or issuable but not yet issued as vesting or earn-out conditions has not been met at the balance sheet date.

As stipulated by the relevant laws and regulations for foreign investment enterprises in the PRC, the PRC subsidiaries are required to maintain these statutory reserves, being a statutory surplus reserve fund and an enterprise expansion fund which are non-distributable. Appropriations to such reserves are made out of net profit after taxation of the statutory financial statements of the PRC subsidiaries and the allocation basis are decided by their board of directors annually. The statutory surplus reserve fund can be used to make up its prior year losses, if any, and can be applied on conversion into capital by means of capitalisation issue. The enterprise expansion fund is used for expanding the capital base of the PRC subsidiaries by means of capitalising issue.

Report and Financial Statements under IFRS

FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2008

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments which are measured at fair values, as explained below, and in accordance with IFRSs. The principal accounting policies adopted are as follows:

BASIS OF CONSOLIDATION

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Company and entities controlled by the Company (its subsidiaries) (collectively referred to as the “Group”) made up to December 31 each year. Control is achieved where the Company has the power to govern the financial and operating policies of an entity so as to obtain benefits from its activities.

The results of subsidiaries acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated income statement from the effective date of acquisition or up to the effective date of disposal, as appropriate.

Where necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with those used by other members of the Group.

All significant intra-group transactions, balances, income and expenses are eliminated on consolidation.

Minority interests in the net assets of consolidated subsidiaries are presented separately from the Group’s equity therein. Minority interests in the net assets consist of the amount of those interests at the date of the original business combination and the minority’s share of changes in equity since the date of the combination. Losses applicable to the minority in excess of the minority’s interest in the subsidiary’s equity are allocated against the interests of the Group except to the extent that the minority has a binding obligation and is able to make an additional investment to cover the losses.

BUSINESS COMBINATIONS

The acquisition of subsidiaries is accounted for using the purchase method in the consolidated financial statements. The cost of the acquisition is measured at the aggregate of the fair values, at the date of exchange, of assets given, liabilities incurred or assumed, and equity instruments issued by the Group in exchange for control of the acquiree, plus any costs directly attributable to the business combination. The acquiree’s identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities that meet the conditions for recognition under IFRS 3 “Business combinations” are recognised at their fair values at the acquisition date, except for non-current assets (or disposal groups) that are classified as held for sale in accordance with IFRS 5 “Non-current assets held for sale and discontinued operations”, which are recognised and measured at fair value less costs to sell.

Goodwill arising on acquisition is recognised as an asset and initially measured at cost, being the excess of the cost of the business combination over the Group’s interest in the net fair value of the identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities recognised. If, after reassessment, the Group’s interest in the net fair value of the acquiree’s identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities exceeds the cost of the business combination, the excess is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

The interest of minority shareholders in the acquiree is initially measured at the minority’s proportion of the net fair value of the assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities recognised.

Business combination agreements with adjustments to the cost of combination based on contingent events are included in the cost of combination at the acquisition date if the adjustment is probable and can be measured reliably.

GOODWILL

Goodwill arising on acquisitions prior to January 1, 2005

Goodwill arising on an acquisition of net assets and operations of another entity for which the agreement date is before January 1, 2005 represents the excess of the cost of acquisition over the Group’s interest in the fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the relevant acquiree at the date of acquisition.

For previously capitalised goodwill arising on acquisitions of net assets and operations of another entity after January 1, 2001, the Group has discontinued amortisation from January 1, 2005 onwards, and such goodwill is tested for impairment annually, and whenever there is an indication that the cash-generating unit to which the goodwill relates may be impaired (see the accounting policy below).

Goodwill arising on acquisitions on or after January 1, 2005

Goodwill arising on an acquisition of a business for which the agreement date is on or after January 1, 2005 represents the excess of the cost of acquisition over the Group's interest in the fair value of the identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities of the relevant business at the date of acquisition. Such goodwill is carried at cost less any accumulated impairment losses.

Capitalised goodwill arising on an acquisition of a business is presented separately in the consolidated balance sheet.

For the purposes of impairment testing, goodwill arising from an acquisition is allocated to each of the relevant cash-generating units, or groups of cash-generating units, that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the acquisition. A cash-generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually, and whenever there is an indication that the unit may be impaired. For goodwill arising on an acquisition in a financial year, the cash-generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment before the end of that financial year. When the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit is less than the carrying amount of the unit, the impairment loss is allocated to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit first, and then to the other assets of the unit pro rata on the basis of the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognised directly in the consolidated income statement. An impairment loss for goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods.

On subsequent disposal of the relevant cash-generating unit, the attributable amount of goodwill capitalised is included in the determination of the amount of profit or loss on disposal.

ACQUISITION OF ADDITIONAL INTERESTS IN SUBSIDIARIES

Goodwill arising on acquisition of additional interests in subsidiaries represents the excess of the cost of the acquisition over the carrying value of the net assets attributable to the additional interests in the subsidiaries.

DEEMED DISPOSAL OF PARTIAL INTERESTS IN SUBSIDIARIES

Gain or loss on deemed disposal of partial interests in subsidiaries represents the increase or decrease, respectively in the Group's share of the respective subsidiary's net assets and adjusted for the release of goodwill and reserves attributable to such change.

INVESTMENTS IN SUBSIDIARIES

Investments in subsidiaries are stated at cost less any identified impairment loss in the Company's financial statements.

INVESTMENTS IN ASSOCIATES

The results and assets and liabilities of associates are incorporated in consolidated financial statements using the equity method of accounting. Under the equity method, investments in associates are carried in the consolidated balance sheet at cost as adjusted for post-acquisition changes in the Group's share of the profit or loss and of changes in equity of the associate, less any identified impairment loss. When the Group's share of losses of an associate equals or exceeds its interest in that associate (which includes any long-term interests that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the associate), the Group discontinues recognising its share of further losses. An additional share of losses is provided for and a liability is recognised only to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of that associate.

Where a group entity transacts with an associate of the Group, profits and losses are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in the relevant associate.

Investments in associates are stated at cost less any identified impairment loss in the Company's financial statement.

NON-CURRENT ASSETS HELD FOR SALE

Non-current assets or disposal groups are classified as held for sale if their carrying amount will be recovered principally through a sale transaction rather than through continuing use. This condition is regarded as met only when the sale is highly probable and the asset (or disposal group) is available for immediate sale in its present condition.

Non-current assets (or disposal groups) classified as held for sale are measured at the lower of the assets' (disposal groups') previous carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell.

Report and Financial Statements under IFRS

FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2008

REVENUE RECOGNITION

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable and represents amounts receivable for services provided in the normal course of business, net of discounts and sales related taxes.

Revenue from subscription based real-time and historical information services is recognised on a straight line basis over the period of the subscription.

Service and solutions is recognised when the services are provided.

Service fee for administrative services for group companies is recognised when the services are provided.

Advertising sales revenues are recognised when advertisements are published net of provisions for estimated rate adjustments and discounts. Payments received in advance are deferred until earned and such amounts are reported as deferred revenue included in other payables.

Publishing services revenues include management and information consulting fees relating to magazine subscriptions and sale of magazines. Magazine subscription revenues are recognised over the subscription period. Single copy sales of magazines through distributors or retail outlets such as newsstands, supermarkets, and convenience stores are recognised when they are sold to the end customers. Revenue from book sales is recognised when books are sold to end customers.

Advertising services include revenues from event organisation and advertising agency services and are recognised as services are provided. Revenues from event organisation include ticketing revenue recognised upon the delivery of tickets and admission to the events. Revenues from sponsorship at events are generally recorded over the period of the applicable agreements commencing from the operation of the related event.

Content production revenues include revenues from producing television programs, animations, visual effects and post-production for television commercials and broadcast design. Revenues are recognised when the master tape of the program is available for first airing under the terms of the related licensing agreement.

Revenue for the production of the logos and trailers are recognised upon delivery of the products and customer acceptance.

Revenue for image and branding consultations are recognised as the services are provided.

Advertising transactions with television and radio stations are recorded at either gross or net basis depending on whether the Group is acting as the principal or as an agent in the transaction. The Group is considered as the principal in transactions where it purchases blocks of advertising time and attempts to sell the time to advertisers and it has substantial risks and rewards of ownership, accordingly, records revenue on a gross basis. For those transactions in which the Group finds advertising space for advertisers and it does not have substantial risks and rewards of ownership, the Group is considered an agent in the transaction and, accordingly, records revenue on a net basis.

Interest income from a financial asset is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount.

LEASES

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

Assets held under finance leases are recognised as assets of the Group at their fair value at the date of inception or, if lower, at the present value of the minimum lease payments. The corresponding liability to the lessor is included in the balance sheet as a finance lease obligation. Lease payments are apportioned between finance charges and reduction of the lease obligation so as to achieve a constant rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability. Finance charges are charged directly to profit or loss.

Rentals payable under operating leases are charged to profit or loss on a straight line basis over the period of the respective leases. Benefits received and receivable as an incentive to enter into an operating lease are recognised as a reduction of rental expense over the lease term on a straight line basis.

The land and building elements of a lease of land and building are considered separately for the purpose of lease classification. Leasehold land which title is not expected to pass to the lessee by the end of the lease term is classified as an operating lease unless the lease payments cannot be allocated reliably between the land and building elements, in which case, the entire lease is classified as a finance lease.

PROPERTY, PLANT AND EQUIPMENT

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less subsequent accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the item) is included in the income statement in the period in which the item is derecognised.

The cost of land and buildings is depreciated over 20 years using the straight line method or over the remaining period of the relevant lease, whichever is shorter.

The cost of leasehold improvements is depreciated over three years using the straight line method or over the remaining period of the relevant lease, whichever is shorter.

Depreciation is provided to write off the cost of other property, plant and equipment, using the straight line method, over the following estimated useful lives:

Billboards and lampposts	10 years
Computer and network equipment	1–7 years
Furniture, fixtures and equipment	4–10 years
Motor vehicles	5 years

Assets held under finance leases are depreciated over their expected useful lives on the same basis as owned assets or, where shorter, the term of the relevant lease.

Report and Financial Statements under IFRS

FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2008

INTANGIBLE ASSETS (INCLUDING LICENSE AGREEMENTS, OPERATING AGREEMENT, CAPITALISED CONTENT PRODUCTION COSTS AND OTHER INTANGIBLE ASSETS)

Capitalised content production costs

Capitalised content production costs consisted of direct production costs, production overhead, development, and pre-production costs, and are stated at cost, less accumulated amortisation and impairment. Capitalised content production costs recognised as cost of revenues for a given program are determined using the program forecast method. Under this method, the amount of capitalised costs recognised as expense is based on the proportion of the program's revenues recognised for such period to the program's estimated remaining ultimate revenues. These estimates are revised periodically and foreseeable losses, if any, are provided in full.

Capitalised content production costs are capitalised only if it is anticipated that the production costs incurred on a clearly-defined program will be recovered through future commercial activity.

Intangible assets acquired separately

Intangible assets acquired separately and with finite useful lives are carried at costs less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation for intangible assets with finite useful lives is provided on a straight line basis over their estimated useful lives. Alternatively, intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are carried at cost less any subsequent accumulated impairment losses (see the accounting policy in respect of impairment losses below).

Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset are measured at the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognised in the income statement when the asset is derecognised.

Intangible assets acquired in a business combination

Intangible assets acquired in a business combination are identified and recognised separately from goodwill where they satisfy the definition of an intangible asset and their fair values can be measured reliably. The cost of such intangible assets is their fair value at the acquisition date.

Subsequent to initial recognition, intangible assets with finite useful lives are carried at cost less subsequent accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation for intangible assets with finite useful lives is provided on a straight line basis over their estimated useful lives. Alternatively, intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are carried at cost less any subsequent accumulated impairment losses (see the accounting policy in respect of impairment losses below).

Impairment

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and intangible assets not yet available for use are tested for impairment annually or whenever there is any indication that they may be impaired by comparing their carrying amounts with their recoverable amounts. If the recoverable amount of an asset is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised as an expense immediately.

When an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised as income immediately.

Intangible assets with finite useful lives are tested for impairment when there is an indication that an asset may be impaired (see the accounting policies in respect of impairment losses for tangible and intangible assets below).

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised on the balance sheet when a group entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Financial assets

The Group's and the Company's financial assets are classified into one of the three categories, including financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, loans and receivables and available-for-sale financial assets. All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognised and derecognised on a trade date basis. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the time frame established by regulation or convention in the marketplace. The accounting policies adopted in respect of each category of financial assets are set out below.

Effective interest method

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset and of allocating interest income over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts (including all fees on points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial asset, or, where appropriate, a shorter period.

Income is recognised on an effective interest basis for debt instruments.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss has two subcategories, including financial assets held for trading and those designated at fair value through profit or loss on initial recognition.

A financial asset is classified as held for trading if:

- it has been acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the near future; or
- it is a part of an identified portfolio of financial instruments that the Group manages together and has a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or
- it is a derivative that is not designated and effective as a hedging instrument.

A financial asset other than a financial asset held for trading may be designated as at fair value through profit or loss upon initial recognition if:

- such designation eliminates or significantly reduces a measurement or recognition inconsistency that would otherwise arise; or
- the financial asset forms part of a group of financial assets or financial liabilities or both, which is managed and its performance is evaluated on a fair value basis, in accordance with the Group's documented risk management or investment strategy, and information about the grouping is provided internally on that basis; or
- it forms part of a contract containing one or more embedded derivatives, and IAS 39 permits the entire combined contract (asset or liability) to be designated as at fair value through profit or loss.

At each balance sheet date subsequent to initial recognition, financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value, with changes in fair value recognised directly in profit or loss in the period in which they arise. The net gain or loss recognised in profit or loss excludes any dividend or interest earned on the financial assets.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. At each balance sheet date subsequent to initial recognition, loans and receivables are carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any identified impairment losses (see accounting policy on impairment loss on financial assets below).

Available-for-sale financial assets

Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivatives that are either designated or not classified as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, loans and receivables or held-to-maturity investments.

Report and Financial Statements under IFRS

At each balance sheet date subsequent to initial recognition, available-for-sale financial assets are measured at fair value. Changes in fair value are recognised in equity, until the financial asset is disposed of or is determined to be impaired, at which time, the cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in equity is removed from equity and recognised in profit or loss (see accounting policy on impairment loss on financial assets below).

For available-for-sale equity investments that do not have a quoted market price in an active market and whose fair value cannot be reliably measured and derivatives that are linked to and must be settled by delivery of such unquoted equity instruments, they are measured at cost less any identified impairment losses at each balance sheet date subsequent to initial recognition (see accounting policy on impairment loss on financial assets below).

Impairment of financial assets

Financial assets, other than those at fair value through profit or loss, are assessed for indicators of impairment at each balance sheet date. Financial assets are impaired where there is objective evidence that, as a result of one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the financial asset, the estimated future cash flows of the financial assets have been impacted.

For an available-for sale equity investment, a significant or prolonged decline in the fair value of that investment below its cost is considered to be objective evidence of impairment.

For all other financial assets, objective evidence of impairment could include:

- significant financial difficulty of the issuer or counterparty; or
- default or delinquency in interest or principal payments; or
- it becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or financial re-organisation.

For certain categories of financial asset, such as trade and other receivables that are assessed not to be impaired individually are subsequently assessed for impairment on a collective basis. Objective evidence of impairment for a portfolio of receivables could include the Group's past experience of collecting payments, an increase in the number of delayed payments in the portfolio past the credit period granted, observable changes in National or local economic conditions that correlate with default on receivables.

For financial assets carried at amortised cost, an impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss when there is objective evidence that the asset is impaired, and is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flows discounted at the original effective interest rate or the fair value of the collateralised assets pledged.

For financial assets carried at cost, the amount of the impairment loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial asset. Such impairment loss will not be reversed in subsequent periods.

The carrying amount of the financial asset is reduced by the impairment loss directly for all financial assets with the exception of trade and other receivables and promissory note receivables, where the carrying amount is reduced through the use of an allowance account. Changes in the carrying amount of the allowance account are recognised in profit or loss. When trade and other receivables or promissory note receivables are considered uncollectible, they are written off against the allowance account. Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited to profit or loss.

For financial assets measured at amortised cost, if, in a subsequent period, the amount of impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment losses was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss to the extent that the carrying amount of the asset at the date the impairment is reversed does not exceed what the amortised cost would have been had the impairment not been recognised.

Impairment losses on available-for-sale equity investments will not be reversed in profit or loss in subsequent periods. Any increase in fair value subsequent to impairment loss is recognised directly in equity. For available-for-sale debt investments, impairment losses are subsequently reversed if an increase in the fair value of the investment can be objectively related to an event occurring after the recognition of the impairment loss.

Financial liabilities and equity

Financial liabilities and equity instruments issued by a group entity are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the Group after deducting all of its liabilities. The accounting policies adopted in respect of financial liabilities and equity instruments are set out below.

Effective interest method

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial liability and of allocating interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments through the expected life of the financial liability, or, where appropriate, a shorter period.

Interest expense is recognised on an effective interest basis other than those financial liability designated as fair value through profit or loss, of which the interest expense is excluded in net gains or losses.

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss has two subcategories, including financial liabilities held for trading and those designated at fair value through profit or loss on initial recognition.

A financial liability other than a financial liability held for trading may be designated as at fair value through profit or loss upon initial recognition if:

- such designation eliminates or significantly reduces a measurement or recognition inconsistency that would otherwise arise; or
- the financial liability forms part of a group of financial assets or financial liabilities or both, which is managed and its performance is evaluated on a fair value basis, in accordance with the Group's documented risk management or investment strategy, and information about the grouping is provided internally on that basis; or
- it forms part of a contract containing one or more embedded derivatives, and IAS 39 permits the entire combined contract (asset or liability) to be designated as at fair value through profit or loss.

At each balance sheet date subsequent to initial recognition, financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value, with changes in fair value recognised directly in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

Senior notes

Senior notes issued by the Group that contains both liability and early redemption option components are classified separately into respective items on initial recognition. Early redemption option with exercise price not approximating to the amortised cost of the liability component on each exercise date is considered as not closely related to the host contract and is treated as separate derivative, an early redemption option derivative. At the date of issue, both the liability and early redemption option components are recognised at fair value.

In subsequent periods, the liability component of the senior notes is carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The early redemption option derivative is measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognised in profit or loss.

Transaction costs that relate to the issue of the senior notes are allocated to the liability and the early redemption option components in proportion to the allocation of the proceeds. Transaction costs relating to the early redemption option derivative is charged to profit or loss immediately. Transaction costs relating to the liability component are included in the carrying amount of the liability portion and amortised over the period of the senior notes using the effective interest method.

Other financial liabilities

Other financial liabilities including bank loans, trade and other payables, amount due to a minority shareholder of a subsidiary, amount due to a shareholder, amount due to a director/former director and other long-term payables are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method.

FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2008

Equity instruments

Equity instruments issued by the Company are recorded at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Hedge accounting

The Group designates certain derivatives as hedges of highly probable forecast transactions for foreign currency exposure (cash flow hedges).

At the inception of the hedging relationship the entity documents the relationship between the hedging instrument and hedged item, along with its risk management objectives and its strategy for undertaking various hedge transactions. Furthermore, at the inception of the hedge and on an ongoing basis, the Group documents whether the hedging instrument that is used in a hedging relationship is highly effective in offsetting changes in fair values or cash flows of the hedged item.

Cash flow hedge

The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualify as cash flow hedges are deferred in equity (hedge reserve). The gain or loss relating to the ineffective portion is recognised immediately in profit or loss as part of administrative expenses or other income.

Amounts deferred in equity are recycled in profit or loss in the periods when the hedged item is recognised in profit or loss.

Hedge accounting is discontinued when the Group revokes the hedging relationship, the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised, or no longer qualifies for hedge accounting. Any cumulative gain or loss deferred in equity at that time remains in equity and is recognised when the forecast transaction is ultimately recognised in profit or loss. When a forecast transaction is no longer expected to occur, the cumulative gain or loss that was deferred in equity is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Derecognition

Financial assets are derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the assets expire or, the financial assets are transferred and the Group has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial assets. On derecognition of a financial asset, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received or any new asset obtained and the cumulative gain or loss that had been recognised directly in equity is recognised in profit or loss.

Financial liabilities are derecognised when they are removed from the balance sheet (i.e. when the obligation specified in the relevant contract is discharged, cancelled or expires). The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid including other liabilities assumed is recognised in profit or loss.

PROVISIONS

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present obligation as a result of a past event, and it is probable that the Group will be required to settle that obligation. Provisions are measured at the directors' best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date, and are discounted to present value where the effect is material.

IMPAIRMENT (OTHER THAN GOODWILL AND INTANGIBLE ASSETS)

At each balance sheet date, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If the recoverable amount of an asset is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised as an expense immediately.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised as income immediately.

TAXATION

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from net profit as reported in the income statement because it excludes items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and it further excludes income statement items that are never taxable or deductible. The Group's liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

Deferred tax is recognised on differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit, and is accounted for using the balance sheet liability method. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences and deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from goodwill or from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of other assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each balance sheet date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax is calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period when the liability is settled or the asset realised. Deferred tax is charged or credited to profit or loss, except when it relates to items charged or credited directly to equity, in which case the deferred tax is also dealt with in equity.

FOREIGN CURRENCIES

In preparing the financial statements of each individual group entity, transactions in currencies other than the functional currency of that entity (foreign currencies) are recorded in its functional currency (i.e. the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates) at the rates of exchanges prevailing on the dates of the transactions. At each balance sheet date, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing on the balance sheet date. Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing on the date when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items, and on the translation of monetary items, are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise. Exchange differences arising on the retranslation of non-monetary items carried at fair value are included in profit or loss for the period except for exchange differences arising on the retranslation of non-monetary items in respect of which gains and losses are recognised directly in equity, in which cases, the exchange differences are also recognised directly in equity.

For the purposes of presenting the Company and consolidated financial statements, the assets and liabilities of the Company and Group entities with functional currencies other than US$ are translated into US$, at the rate of exchange prevailing at the balance sheet date, and their income and expenses are translated at the average exchange rates for the year, unless exchange rates fluctuate significantly during the year, in which case, the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of transactions are used. Exchange differences arising, if any, are recognised as a separate component of equity (the translation reserve). Such exchange differences are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which the foreign operation is disposed of.

Goodwill and fair value adjustments on identifiable assets acquired arising on an acquisition of a foreign operation are treated as assets and liabilities of that foreign operation and translated at the rate of exchange prevailing at the balance sheet date. Exchange differences arising are recognised in the translation reserve.

Goodwill and fair value adjustments arising on acquisitions of foreign operations prior to January 1, 2005 are treated as non-monetary foreign currency items of the acquirer and reported using the historical exchange rate prevailing at the date of the acquisition.

SHARE BASED PAYMENT TRANSACTIONS

Share options or shares granted to employees

The fair value of services received determined by reference to the fair value of share options, warrants or shares granted at the grant date is expensed on a straight line basis over the vesting period, with a corresponding increase in option and warrant reserve or special reserve, as appropriate.

At each balance sheet date, the Group revises its estimates of the number of potential shares that are expected to ultimately vest. The impact of the revision of the estimates, if any, is recognised in profit or loss, with a corresponding adjustment to option and warrant reserve or special reserve, as appropriate.

Share options granted to suppliers/consultants

Share options issued in exchange for goods or services are measured at the fair values of the goods or services received. The fair values of the goods or services received are recognised immediately as expenses, with a corresponding increase in equity (option and warrant reserve) when the Group obtains the goods or when the counterparties render services, unless the goods or services qualify for recognition as assets.

At the time when the share options are exercised, the amount previously recognised in option and warrant reserve will be transferred to share premium. When the share options are forfeited after the vesting date or are still not exercised at the expiry date, the amount previously recognised in option and warrant reserve or special reserve will be transferred to retained profits.

4. KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

In the process of applying the Group's accounting policies, which are described in note 3 above, management had made the following key estimates that have a significant risk of causing material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year.

ESTIMATED IMPAIRMENT OF GOODWILL

Determining whether goodwill is impaired requires an estimation of the value in use of the cash-generating units to which goodwill has been allocated. The value in use calculation requires the Group to estimate the future cash flows expected to arise from the cash-generating unit and a suitable discount rate in order to calculate the present value. Where the actual future cash flows are less than expected, a material impairment loss may arise. Also, the value in use calculation requires the Group to estimate certain inputs based on subjective assumptions such as growth rates and discount rates, any changes in the assumptions made can materially affect the amount of impairment loss recognised. Details of the recoverable amount calculation and sensitivity analysis are disclosed in note 21.

ESTIMATED IMPAIRMENT OF PROMISSORY NOTE RECEIVABLES

The estimated impairment losses on the Distressed Assets, as defined in note 24, were determined based on the estimated fair value of the Pledged Assets, also defined in note 24. The Pledged Assets mainly includes shares and warrants of an unlisted company and a term note receivable from an independent third party. The estimation of the fair value of the shares and warrants of an unlisted company requires subjective assumptions and selection of market comparables determined by management, any changes to the assumptions made can materially affect the amount of impairment losses recognised.

5. CAPITAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The Group and the Company manages its capital to ensure that entities in the Group will be able to continue as a going concern while maximising the return to stakeholders through the optimisation of the debt and equity balance. The Group's and the Company's overall strategy remains unchanged from prior year.

The capital structure of the Group consists of net debt, which includes obligations under finance leases, short-term bank loans and senior notes as disclosed in notes 29, 31 and 32, respectively, cash and cash equivalents and equity attributable to equity holders of the Company, comprising issued share capital, reserves and deficit. The capital structure of the Company consists of net debt, which includes the senior notes as disclosed in note 32, cash and cash equivalents and equity attributable to equity holders of the Company, comprising issued share capital and reserves.

The directors of the Company review the capital structure on a quarterly basis. As part of this review, the directors consider the cost of capital and the risks associates with each class of capital. Based on recommendations of the directors, the Group will balance its overall capital structure through the payment of dividends, new share issues and share buy-backs as well as the issue of new debt or the redemption of existing debt.

6b. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

The Group's major financial instruments include available-for-sale investments, trade and other receivables, promissory note receivables, early redemption option, bank balances and cash, trade payables, obligations under finance leases, bank loans and senior notes. The Company's major financial instruments comprise amounts due from subsidiaries, available-for-sale investments, promissory note receivables, early redemption option and senior notes. Details of these financial instruments are disclosed in respective notes. The risks associated with these financial instruments and the policies on how to mitigate these risks are set out below. The management manages and monitors these exposures to ensure appropriate measures are implemented on a timely and effective manner.

Market risk

(i) Currency risk

Several subsidiaries of the Company have foreign currency sales and certain trade receivables, bank balances, trade payables and bank loans of the Group are denominated in foreign currencies other than the functional currencies of the relevant group entities which expose the Group to foreign currency risk. The Company is exposed to foreign currency risk as certain amounts due from subsidiaries, bank balances and amount due to a director/former director are denominated in foreign currencies other than the functional currency of the Company. In order to reduce the foreign currency risk, management closely monitors such risks and will consider hedging significant foreign currency exposure should the need arises. It is the Group and the Company's policy to negotiate the terms of the hedge derivatives to match the terms of the hedged item to maximise hedge effectiveness.

Report and Financial Statements under IFRS

Sensitivity analysis

The Group and the Company is mainly exposed to exchange rate fluctuations between US$ and RMB.

The following table details the Group's and the Company's sensitivity to a 5% increase and decrease in US$ against the RMB. 5% is the sensitivity rate used when reporting foreign currency risk internally and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in foreign exchange rates. The sensitivity analysis includes only outstanding foreign currency denominated monetary items and adjusts their translation at the year end for a 5% change in foreign currency rates. The sensitivity analysis includes external loans as well as loans to foreign operations within the Group where the denomination of the loan is in a currency other than the currency of the lender or the borrower. A positive or negative number below indicates an increase or decrease, respectively, in profit and other equity where US$ strengthens 5% against the relevant currency. For a 5% weakening of US$ against the relevant currency, there would be an equal and opposite impact on the profit and other equity.

(1) This is a result of the changes in fair value of the derivative financial instrument designated as cash flow hedges.

(ii) Interest rate risk

The Group's and the Company's fair value interest rate risk relates primarily to fixed-rate senior notes (see note 32) and fixed-rate short-term bank loans (see note 31). The management of the Group monitors the related interest rate risk exposure closely. The Group and the Company does not have a formal hedging policy in place but will consider hedging significant interest rate risk exposure should the need arises.

The Group's cash flow interest rate risk relates primarily to variable-rate bank deposits (see note 28). The management of the Group monitors the related interest rate risk exposure closely. The Group and the Company does not have a formal hedging policy in place but will consider hedging significant interest rate risk exposure should the need arises.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analyses below have been determined based on the exposure to interest rates for both derivatives and non-derivative instruments at the balance sheet date. For variable-rate bank borrowings, the analysis is prepared assuming the amount of liability outstanding at the balance sheet date was outstanding for the whole year. A 50 basis point increase or decrease is used when reporting interest rate risk internally and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates.

If interest rates had been 50 basis points higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the Group's loss for the year ended December 31, 2008 would increase/decrease by US$240,000 (2007: profit for the year would decrease/increase by US$612,000). This is mainly attributable to the Group's exposure to interest rates on its variable-rate bank borrowings.

If interest rates had been 50 basis points higher/lower and all variables here held constant, the Company's loss for the year ended December 31, 2008 would increase/decrease by US$10,000 (2007: profit for the year would decrease/increase by US$1,000). This is mainly attributable to the Company's exposure to interest rates on its variable-rate bank balances.

Credit risk

The Group's and the Company's maximum exposure to credit risk in the event of the counterparties failure to perform their obligations as at December 31, 2008 in relation to each class of recognised financial assets is the carrying amount of these assets as stated in the consolidated balance sheet and balance sheet, respectively.

In order to minimise the credit risk in relation to trade receivables, the management of the Group has delegated a team responsible for determination of credit limits, credit approvals and other monitoring procedures to ensure that follow-up action is taken to recover overdue debts. In addition, the Group reviews the recoverable amount of each individual trade debt at each balance sheet date to ensure that adequate impairment losses are made for irrecoverable amounts. In this regard, the directors of the Company consider that the Group's credit risk is significantly reduced. The amounts presented in the balance sheet are net of allowances for doubtful receivables, if any, estimated by the Group's management based on prior experience and their assessment of the current economic environment.

The credit risk on liquid funds is limited because majority of the counterparties are reputable banks or banks with high credit-ratings assigned by international credit-rating agencies.

The Group has no significant concentration of credit risk for its trade and other receivables, with exposure spread over a large number of counterparties and customers.

Credit risk on promissory note receivables are concentrated as the amount outstanding are due from a few note holders only and the maximum exposure to credit risk in respect of such concentration is the carrying amount of promissory note receivable, see note 24 for details.

Liquidity risk

In the management of the liquidity risk, the Group and the Company monitors and maintains a level of cash and cash equivalents deemed adequate by the management to finance the Group's and the Company's operations and mitigate the effects of fluctuations in cash flows. The management monitors the utilisation of bank borrowings and ensures compliance with loan covenants.

The Group and the Company relies on bank borrowings as a significant source of liquidity. As at December 31, 2008, the Group and the Company has available unutilised overdraft and bank loan facilities of approximately US$23,393,000 (2007: US$20,581,000).

The following table details the Group's and the Company's remaining contractual maturity for its financial liabilities that will result in cash outflow. The table has been drawn up based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities based on the earliest date on which the Group can be required to pay. The table includes both interest and principal cash flows.

6c. FAIR VALUE

The fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities are determined as follows:

- the fair value of financial assets with standard terms and conditions and traded on active liquid markets is determined with reference to quoted market prices;
- the fair value of other financial assets and financial liabilities (excluding derivative instruments) is determined in accordance with generally accepted pricing models based on discounted cash flow analysis using prices from observable current market transactions and dealer quotes for similar instruments; and
- the fair value of derivative instruments is calculated using quoted prices. Where such prices are not available, use is made of discounted cash flow analysis using the applicable yield curve for the duration of the instruments for non-optional derivatives, and option pricing models for optional derivative.

The carrying amounts of short-term financial assets and liabilities carried at amortised cost approximate their respective fair values due to the relatively short-term maturity of these financial instruments.

The issue of new shares by XFM together with the conversion of Convertible Loan and Convertible Shares had resulted in a gain on deemed disposal of partial interest in XFM of approximately US$97,511,000.

In addition, in 2007, XFM has issued Class A shares to independent third parties as consideration for acquisition of certain subsidiaries during the period. The issue of the Class A shares had resulted in a gain on deemed disposal of partial interest in XFM of approximately US$540,000.

On June 26, 2008, the Hong Kong Legislative Council passed the Revenue Bill 2008 which includes the reduction in corporate profits tax rate from 17.5% to 16.5% effective from the year of assessment 2008/2009. Therefore, Hong Kong Profits Tax is calculated at 16.5% (2007: 17.5%) on the estimated assessable profit for the year.

PRC income tax is calculated at the applicable tax rates in accordance with the relevant laws and regulations in the PRC.

Pursuant to the relevant laws and regulations in the PRC, certain PRC subsidiaries are entitled to exemption from PRC income tax for the two years commencing from their first profit making year of operation and thereafter, these PRC subsidiaries will be entitled to a 50% relief from PRC income tax for the following three years.

On March 16, 2007, the PRC promulgated the Law of the People's Republic of China on Enterprise Income Tax (the "New Law") by Order No. 63 of the President of the PRC. On December 6, 2007, the State Council of the PRC issued Implementation Regulations of the New Law. The New Law and Implementation Regulations changed the tax rate from 33% to 25% for certain PRC subsidiaries from January 1, 2008. The deferred tax balance has been adjusted to reflect the tax rates that are expected to apply to the respective periods when the asset is realised or the liability is settled. PRC subsidiaries which are entitled to the tax relief, as mentioned above, will continue to enjoy the preferential tax treatment until expiration, on effect of the New Law.

Overseas taxation is calculated at the rates prevailing in the respective jurisdictions.

Report and Financial Statements under IFRS

FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2008

Goodwill acquired in a business combination is allocated to the following cash generating units (“CGUs”) that are expected to benefit from the respective business combinations:

	THE GROUP
	2008 US$'000	2007 US$'000
Provision of news and financial information	—	102,578
Provision of service and solutions	5,738	82,811
Media and advertising business	—	323,855
	5,738	509,244

During the year, the Group performed an impairment review for goodwill based on cash flow forecasts derived from the most recent financial budgets for the next five years and after the fifth year, the projections are extrapolated using a constant growth rate of 3.5% to 4% per annum (2007: 3.5% to 5% per annum) for subsequent years. The recoverable amounts of the CGUs are determined from value in use calculations. The key assumptions for the value in use calculations are those regarding the discount rates, growth rates and expected changes to selling prices and direct costs during the year. The forecast is discounted using a discount rate of 9%, 11% and 15% (2007: 9%, 11% and 13%) for the provision of news and financial information CGU, the provision of services and solutions CGU, and the media and advertising business CGU, respectively. The discount rates were determined with reference to weighted average cost of capital (“WACC”) of similar companies in the industry and the Company’s WAAC plus certain adjustments. The growth rates are based on industry growth forecasts. Changes in selling prices and direct costs are based on past practices and management’s expectations of future changes in the market. There has been no significant changes in the model and assumptions used by management as compared to 2007.

FROM CONTINUING OPERATIONS

During the year ended December 31, 2008, the Group recognised impairment losses of US$3,572,000 (2007: US$4,459,000), US$366,000 (2007: US$4,180,000) and US$182,951,000 (2007: Nil) in relation to goodwill acquired on business combinations of the provision of news and financial information CGU, the provision of service and solutions CGU and the media and advertising CGU, respectively. Impairment losses were recognised as the individual CGUs actual results did not meet management’s forecasts.

In addition, during the year, the Group recognised impairment losses of US$1,786,000 (2007: Nil) in relation to goodwill acquired on business combinations of the provision of news and financial information CGU which were recognised based on the lower of the carrying amount of the assets held for sale and fair value less costs to sell.

FROM DISCONTINUED OPERATIONS

During the year ended December 31, 2008, the Group recognised impairment losses of US$12,617,000 (2007: US$6,455,000) and US$47,110,000 (2007: Nil), in relation to goodwill acquired on business combinations of the provision of news and financial information CGU and the provision of service and solutions CGU, respectively. Impairment losses were recognised as the individual CGUs actual results did not meet management’s forecasts.

In addition, during the year, the Group recognised impairment losses of US$8,430,000 (2007: Nil) and US$38,705,000 (2007: Nil) in relation to goodwill acquired on business combinations of the provision of news and financial information CGU and the provision of service and solutions CGU respectively, which were recognised based on the lower of the carrying amount of the assets held for sale and fair value less costs to sell.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analyses below details the Group’s sensitivity to the key assumptions used by management. A 2% (2007: 2%) increase in discount rates and a 2% (2007: 2%) drop in the constant growth rate is used and is considered to be a reasonably possible change in market conditions by management.

If discount rates had been 2% (2007: 2%) higher, additional impairment losses of US$1,208,000 (2007: US$1,722,000) would be recognised for the CGU of provision of service and solutions.

If the constant growth rates had been 2% (2007: 2%) lower, additional impairment losses of US$638,000 (2007: US$923,000) would be recognised for the CGU of provision of service and solutions.

The investment in an associate at December 31, 2008 represents the Group's 34.1% equity interest in XFM, a company incorporated in the Cayman Islands and is engaged in media and advertising business with its shares listed on Nasdaq in the US. XFM is a former subsidiary of the Company, see note 39 for details of deconsolidation.

Out of the 50,054,168 Class A shares of XFM held by the Group, 12,500,000 shares have been pledged to secure an amount of US$2,500,000 due to Madam Loretta Fredy Bush, a former director of the Company, see note 30 for details.

During the year, the Company performed an impairment review of its interest in the associate based on the cash flow forecast derived from the most recent financial budget of the associate for the next five years and after the fifth year, the projections are extrapolated using a constant growth rate of 4% per annum. The forecast was discounted using a discount rate of 15%. The discount rate was determined with reference to the cost of equity of the associate. Based on the share of the estimated future cash flow, management identified impairment losses of US$64.3 million for the Company.

Summarised financial information of XFM is set out below:

In December 2008, the Company entered into a separation agreement (the "Separation Agreement") with Madam Loretta Fredy Bush, a former director of the Company, and as part of the settlement on termination of her employment with the Company, the Company agreed to acquire a promissory note of US$3,300,000 due from an independent third party from Madam Loretta Fredy Bush. Management have estimated the fair value of the promissory note at the date of acquisition to be US$1,708,000, the difference of US$1,592,000 was recognised as a compensation to the former director for her loss of office. The fair value was estimated by management based on the assets pledged to secure the promissory notes acquired.

During the year, management have assessed its promissory note receivables for indicators of impairment. As a result, management has identified certain counterparties of the Group and the Company with a total balance of US$22,608,000 (2007: US$11,092,000) and US$1,708,000 (2007: US$3,765,000), respectively, outstanding as at balance sheet date to be impaired since these parties were in significant financial difficulties or have defaulted on interest and principal payments (the "Distressed Assets"). Consequently, the Group has recognised impairment losses of US$14,728,000 (2007: US$5,546,000) on these Distressed Assets. No further impairment loss was recognised on the Distressed Assets of the Company as they were written down to its fair value at date of acquisition of the promissory notes in December 2008, as mentioned above (2007: US$3,765,000).

Management has either made full provisions on these Distressed Assets or has impaired them up to the estimated fair value of the assets pledged to the Group (the "Pledged Assets"). The Pledged Assets mainly includes shares and warrants of an unlisted company and a term note receivable from an independent third party. The fair value of the shares and warrants of the unlisted company were determined by management based on market comparable companies to derive its share value and its respective volatility used to determine the value of the warrants.

25. PRINCIPAL PROTECTED NOTE

In October 2007, XFM purchased from UBS Financial Services, Inc. a US$25 million principal protected note (the "Principal Protected Note") issued by Lehman Brothers Holdings Inc. ("Lehman Brothers") which matured on January 30, 2009 (the "Maturity Date"). On the Maturity Date, the Principal Protected Note will be redeemed at 100% plus a variable amount based on the performance of the FTSE/Xinhua China 25 Index. The Principal Protected Note includes the loan component and an embedded derivative (index linked contract).

The Principal Protected Note was designated as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss on initial recognition. At each balance sheet date subsequent to initial recognition, the Principal Protected Note was measured at fair value, with changes in fair value recognised directly in profit or loss in the period in which they arisen.

As a result of Lehman Brothers filing for bankruptcy in September 2008, the Group has determined that the Principal Protected Note was irrecoverable and hence a fair value loss of US$24.9 million was recognised during the year.

Included in the Group's unrecognised tax losses in 2007, are tax losses of US$9,154,000 which will expire gradually up to 2024. Other tax losses may be carried forward indefinitely.

Included in the Group's trade receivable balance are debtors with aggregate carrying amount of US$1,065,000 (2007: US$12,882,000) which are past due at the reporting date for which the Group has not provided for impairment loss. On November 21, 2006, the Company issued senior guaranteed fixed rate notes with aggregate principal amount of US$100,000,000 (the "Senior Notes") at an issue price equal to 99.041% of the principal amount of the notes, due on November 21, 2011. 33. DERIVATIVE FINANCIAL INSTRUMENT

	THE GROUP AND THE COMPANY
	2008 US$'000	2007 US$'000
Cash flow hedge — cross currency swap	—	16,729

In 2007, the Group entered into cross currency swap contract to minimise its exposure to foreign exchange rate fluctuations of its Senior Notes (see note 32) by swapping US$ to RMB. The cross currency swap and the Senior Notes had similar terms and the directors of the Company considered the cross currency swap was a highly effective hedging instrument. Major terms of the cross currency swap were:

Notional amount	Maturity	Swaps
US$100,000,000	November 21, 2009	RMB781.6 million to US$100 million on maturity and interest rate swaps from US$ notional 10% per annum to RMB notional 6.85% per annum

In 2007, fair value loss of US$16,729,000 from the cross currency swap under cash flow hedge have been deferred in equity and the Group/Company, has recycled US$9,368,000 of the loss to profit and loss to offset the retranslation impact of the Senior Notes. The fair value of the cross currency swap were measured using quoted forward exchange rates and yield curves derived from quoted interest rates matching maturities of the contract.

During the year, the Group early settled its cross currency swap. As a result, a fair value gain of US$4,297,000, being the fair value change of the cross currency swap from March 31, 2008, the last date when the cross currency swap was assessed to be an effective hedge instrument, to the date of settlement, was recognised in the consolidated income statement. During the year, the Group released loss of US$10,432,000 from the hedge reserve as the forecast transaction is no longer expected to occur.

43. LITIGATIONS

LITIGATIONS OF THE GROUP

On or about November 10, 2008, a former employee of a subsidiary, filed a demand for arbitration and statement of claim with the American Arbitration Association against the subsidiary. The statement claim alleges that the employee is owed money pursuant to an employment agreement with the subsidiary in connection with his termination on or about October 13, 2008. The employee claims approximately US$400,000 in damages. On or about December 9, 2008, the subsidiary filed a response and asserted various counterclaims against the employee. The counterclaims stem from the employee's breach of the employment agreement and breach of fiduciary duty to the subsidiary during his employment. The subsidiary claims approximately US$500,000 in damages. As at the date of this report, it is possible that a second employee of the subsidiary may bring a similar arbitration action against the subsidiary for the termination of the employee's employment agreement with the subsidiary. If the employee were to bring such an action, management anticipate his claims and the subsidiary's response would be similar to the currently pending arbitration.

During the year, an arbitration demand over the disagreement of the first and second earned out calculations totalling US$8,500,000 plus interest, payable in cash and shares of the Company, in respect of the acquisition of Mergent Data Technology, Inc. (formerly known as Praeada Acquisition Corporation) ("MDT") was submitted by the former holding company of MDT, PSI Capital, Inc. (formerly known as Praeada Solutions, Inc.) against the Company.

Given the early stage of the litigations mentioned above, it is premature to predict potential outcomes or estimate potential damages. Accordingly, no reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligations, if any.

On October 28, 2008, XFM filed its defense to the demand as well as a cross claim against UBS Financial Services, Inc. for an amount in excess of US$25 million.
